 6) Other: _____.

1. Applicant's election with traverse of group I, claims 1-12, in the reply filed on 6/22/06 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that there would be no additional burden to search the other claims. This is not found persuasive because the other claims are classified in different classes and subclasses than those of the elected claims, and given the academic language used in the recitation of the non-elected claims of "conducting asymmetric reactions", extensive election of species as well as amendment to the non-elected claims would be required.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is not commensurate in scope with the claims following the restriction requirement. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-12 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10 and 12 of copending Application No. 10/772198. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because one of ordinary skill would have expected that reacting porous support materials would have covalently bonded them to a catalyst, and sulfonate is a conventional counter anion.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

5. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1, 2 and 11, a more correct term for the N--*--N ligand would be --bidentate diamine-- instead of "nitrogen compound".

Further in claim 2, the $R^{1,2,4}$ groups are recited as being C_4 or C_5 aryls, although the smallest aryl ring possible is C_6 . This is also found in claim 3. In the second line of the recitation of R^3 in claim 3 correct the spelling to --disubstituted--.

In claim 6, change "supports are mesoporous zeolites" to the singular to conform to the language of claim 1.

In claim 7, every instance of "and" should be --or-- for proper closed Markush language.

In claim 8, simplify the language of the last two lines to --L is a monoolefin, diolefin, nitrile, aromatic or anionic ligand.--

In claim 9, make the last two members of the closed Markush group singular.

In claim 10, l. 2, change "and" to --or--. In the description of the * symbol, the correct term is --chiral--, not "stereogenic". Change the left parenthesis to --for-- and the right parenthesis to --;--.

6. The claims are allowable over the prior art currently of record. None of said prior art fairly discloses or teaches a compound having the chiral ligand covalently bonded to a porous support material.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to J. Pasterczyk whose telephone number is 571-272-1375. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F from 9 to 5:30.
